Older Workers

Build New Job Skills!

Employers value the talents older workers bring to the workforce and are looking for people like you. If you're 55 or older with a low income, the Florida Institute for Workforce Innovation (FIWI) is ready to help you refresh your job skills and re-enter the workforce.

You'll be placed in a part-time community service training assignment to gain experience. You can serve your community--at libraries, hospitals, senior centers and other local organizations--while expanding your skills and earning an income.

The FIWI SCSEP staff will help you secure the training you need and will assist you in making the transition to a job that's right for you.
